Mirambika is a Research Center for Integral Education and Human Values in India's capital, New Delhi.

Mirambika follows Free Progress Learning system of education, based on the Integral Philosophy and Psychology of Sri Aurobindo. It aspires to be a system of education that is guided by the soul; the aim is to help children develop their entire nature – physical, vital (emotional/volitional), mental, psychic and spiritual – and turn it into a fit instrument for their soul to express itself in the world.

As the qualities and capacities of the children differ from child to child, there is only a minimum common syllabus. The rest of the time at school, the children are free to concentrate on their own areas of interest, while the teachers are available to inspire and encourage, guide and protect.

If you aspire for a purposeful life of self-development while learning about and practicing Integral Education, here is a golden opportunity. Join us in Mirambika Free Progress School as a volunteer facilitator and grow in many ways while working with children in the Free Progress way.
