Sri Aurobindo Marg, New Delhi 110 016

Some give their soul to the Divine, some their life,
Some offer their work, some their money.
A few consecrate all of themselves
And all they have - soul, life, work, and wealth;
These are the true children of God.
Others give nothing - these whatever their position,
Power and riches are for the Divine purpose valueless cyphers.

SRI AUROBINDO ASHRAM, DELHI BRANCH

TO ALL THOSE WHO WISH TO JOIN THE ASHRAM

To live in a spiritual community, one must try one's best to eliminate from oneself all that goes against the fundamental principle of its movement viz. unity of life, unity of mind and heart, and unity of purpose. All divisive movements whether in motivation or in their result need to be ruthlessly eschewed from oneself. For verily, the strength of a movement or of an organization depends necessarily upon the quality of the individual members who must accept responsibility to safeguard the integrity and promote true purpose of their aspiration to join in the work they plan to take up.

An aspirant must, therefore, initiate self-examination and sustained self-improvement to become a source of strength to the movement. In every organization, especially of a spiritual kind, it is the painstaking integrity of the members that constitutes the real test of its cumulative health. Accordingly the first responsibility of every Aspirant should be to totally sincere in the offering.

It would be useful, then, if each aspirant were to ask himself/herself before joining whether he/she would maintain self discipline and take full advantage of the facilities provided for such as yoga, group meditation cultural activities & a certain number of hours of SEVA (selfless work which are all part of an Ashram life for one's spiritual growth.

After all, any robust community life asks for standards of behavior voluntarily accepted and maintained in the interest of the institution;

Do you unmistakably feel 'the call' from within? Welcome then, into the family fold of the Ashram and rise above our personal desires and attachments and aspire to serve the Divine.
